

Forum: 'How to Save the World in a Hurry'

Wed. May 30 and Thurs. May 31, 2018

Room 140, University College, 15 King's College Circle, Toronto

This two-day event will develop a list of public policy innovations to simultaneously reduce six global threats: war and weapons • global warming • famine • pandemics • mass radiation exposure • cyber attacks. See tosavetheworld.ca.

Wednesday. After a welcoming address by Nobel chemistry laureate, Professor John Polanyi, we will hear talks and Q & A responses from experts on all these threats. Among the speakers are:

- Hon. Douglas Roche
- Ambassador Peggy Mason
- Gordon Edwards
- Angela Bischoff
- UN Rapporteur Hilal Elver
- Prof. Evan Fraser
- Catherine Abreu
- Prof. Mark Z. Jacobson
- Dr. Ronald St. John
- Dr. Larry Brilliant
- Dr. Bryna Warshawsky
- Prof. Paul Werbos
- Ambassador Paul Meyer
- Prof. Danny Harvey
- Toby A.A Heaps
- Fergus Watt
- Dr. Jeremy Whitlock

On Wednesday evening, we dine in the Free Times Café, where journalist Doug Saunders will speak about protecting democracy. On Thursday we break into groups to select the most promising policy proposals for each threat. Upon returning to a plenary session, we will select a list of 25 public policy proposals, the "Platform for Survival." Activists, researchers, and NGOs working on all six threats can adopt it thereafter as a common agenda for campaigns to repair our world and keep it safer for everyone.

Sponsored by Science for Peace. Register today!

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/forum-how-to-save-the-world-in-a-hurry-tickets-44179625449>

General Admission $120. Students and unwaged: $50.
Wednesday's dinner talk $35.